BIO:

Steven Stryker is a professional trainer, facilitator and consultant, owner of STRYKER ASSOCIATES for over thirty years. He provides custom-tailored, just-in-time training, facilitating and consulting services to enhance the successful performance of federal acquisitions, programs and projects. He also has supported the lifecycle process of program and project success. Mr. Stryker continues to meet the challenge of successful performance acquisition implementation in a “cradle to grave” process—as a primary achievement of OMB & agency Acquisition Policy. Based on previous efforts with the DHS, EPA, Treasury, HHS as well as DOL, DOI, DOT, GSA, NIH, HUD, Justice, Commerce, USDA, GPO, Army, Air Force & Navy as well as government-focused firms, the results have demonstrated a categorical improvement in more effectively fulfilling the client's requirements through saved time, money and reduced problems, while obtaining higher-quality performance and outputs.

Mr. Stryker is a Certified Trainer through DAU and FAI to meet the learning competencies of the FAC-COTR and FAC-P/PM professional development programs from the Office of Federal Procurement Policy.

Mr. Stryker is republishing three books: Plan to Succeed: A Guide to Strategic Planning, Guide to Successful Consulting, and Principles and Practices of Professional Consulting.

Mr. Stryker has also authored of The COTR Handbook: Effective Catalyst For Stronger Organizational Performance. In addition, he has contributed a chapter on Research & Development Contracting to a forthcoming volume on Services Contracting.

Over the last three years, Mr. Stryker has been a requested speaker and presenter at a number of conferences and seminars on Performance Based topics (with a focus on enhancing performance application and accountability). The Conference sponsors include: The Performance Institute, The Government Contracting Institute, FOSE, Market Access, NCMA, Council for Excellence in Government and HHS.
